How to Collect and Analyse the Required Data

Calculate the indicator's value by taking the following three steps:

- 1) Review the records of all supported saving groups and assess the current total amount of their savings (including the savings that are currently provided as loans).
- 2) Review the records of all supported saving groups and count the total number of their members.
- 3) To calculate the indicator's value, divide the total amount of the groups' savings by the total number of their members.
